UNEXPECTED REVELATION

My dear parents,
I wrote you this poem
To tell you: "I love you".

My dear parents,
This message is for you
To tell you I was a little bullied girl.

My dear parents,
You never imagined, you never saw
You never heard my tears in the night
Inside me, the light was switched off
You never knew how difficult it was!

My dear parents,
I wrote you this poem, I was a bullied girl,
They called me names,
They kicked me and punched me, for them it was a game!
I was always so lonely, my dear parents...

My dear parents,
I was scared and frightened
I cried out my despair later
I was extremely unhappy
My soul and my heart were hurt.

My dear parents,
I wrote you this poem
Today, I finally overcame this problem
Today, I felt better
Today, I felt happier
Because you always loved me
"I love you" my dear parents!
