I'm crazy about swimming, I swim once a week so I can swim very well. I'm interested in chess, I sometimes play chess because I'm not very good. I can't stand running so I don't often go running and I can't run very well. I don't really like cooking because I find it too messy so I never cook. I'm fond of reading so I try to read as often as possible. I'm keen on drawing so I draw at least once a week for three up to five hours so I can draw quite well. I don't spiders because I'm afraid of them but I do find them interesting. I don't mind dogs even if I do find them sometimes very annoying, I don't mind them because sometimes they are fun to play with... just not all the time. I don't mind doing homework because once it's done, it's done and I always like learning new things even if sometimes doing homework is a pain in the neck. I'm keen on studying because I do like learning new things and getting high marks on tests even if it rarely happens in french! I don't like noisy people at all because most of the time they talk in class and it's annoying when I'm trying to learn or don't understand something because I can't hear the teacher. I don't mind going to school because I mean it could be worse and I like learning even if some of the lessons bore you half to death, I like history and english the most because in history I get to find out about the past and english is the only lesson that I'm a bit of an expert in except for the teacher... also I don't mind math because I find it quite easy and plus there's not a lot of sentences in french. I enjoy roller skating and ice skating even if I'm not very good at it, I like it because I can go to places faster and it's much better than running but I always have a problem with stopping and I always seem to crash against a wall, I wish I knew how to stop but I can't find the brakes!
