

Margaret meets Charline

publié le 26/01/2021

Hello !

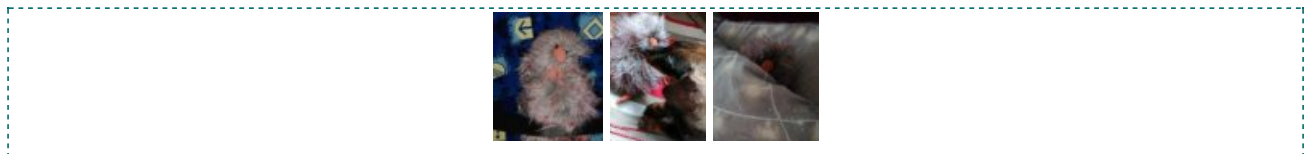

I went to Charline's and did a lot of activities ! Charline wanted to introduce me to her pets and other animals. So first I came face to face with her dogs... Well... I must say it was quite a terrible experience because they thought I was their evening meal ! So I ran away ! What a scary moment ! Then I got to know her hens, but they cackled so noisily that I didn't like them much. In my opinion, the turkey's gobble is far more musical and pleasant ! I finally met her hamsters and played with them, until they bit my nose because it looked like a carrot. For me, turkeys are definitely the most civilized animals on Earth !

So I went into the house and helped with the cooking with the whole family. After dinner, we watched TV and then I went to bed because I hadn't stopped running all day and felt exhausted.

The next day, I took the bus back to school with Charline. Thank you Charline for the good time I had with you, it was great !
